Rescue

LFTI partners with a network and authorities in South Asia to intervene for children trafficked for sex, labor or organs, or children abandoned due to economic or religious circumstances. For each child, LFTI facilitates intake services through local agencies, like medical examinations and procuring ID documents.

Restore

If kinship reunification is not possible, each child is matched with parents in our adoption network - which is what makes LFTI's approach especially unique. Parents are fully vetted and equipped with a year of trauma-informed adoption counseling. Each child goes home with their Forever Family, moves into their own room, and comes each day to a transition home with one or both parents for further care and adjustment.

Renew

LFTI operates over 100 transition homes across South Asia. Through our supporters, children are given food, clothes, medical care, counseling, and education - ALL in an environment sensitive to the trauma they've experienced. Our two-year follow-up process ensures ongoing support for kids and parents. And, each child has lifetime access to LFTI trauma counselors so they have every chance to thrive with their families and live with renewed hope.
