Rescue

LFTI partners with a network across South Asia to intervene for children trafficked for sex, labor, or organs. LFTI facilitates intake services through local agencies, like medical examinations and procuring ID documents.

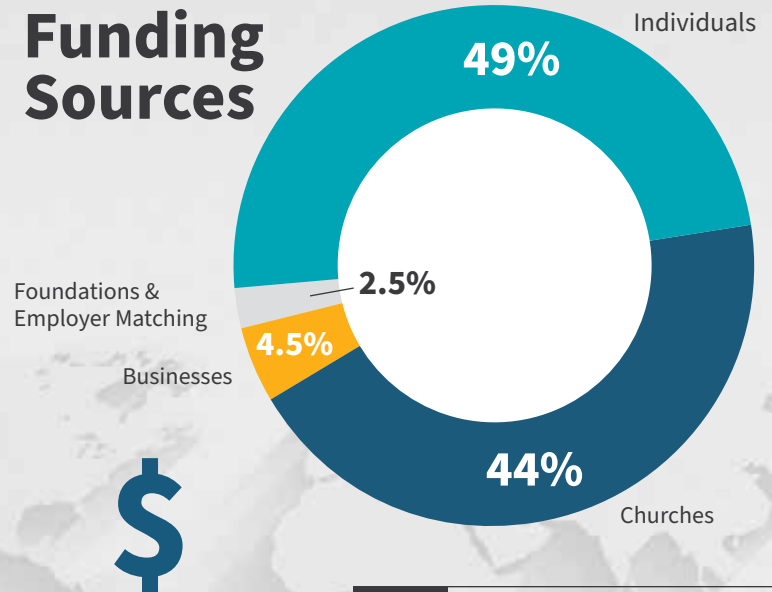

Restore

Each child is matched with parents in our adoption network (as kinship reunification is rarely possible). This adoption component makes LFTI's approach especially unique. Parents are fully vetted and equipped with a year of trauma-informed adoption counseling. Each child goes home with their Forever Family and comes Monday-Friday to a transition home with one or both parents.

Renew

LFTI operates over 100 transition homes across South Asia. Through supporters like you, children are given food, clothes, medical care, counseling, and education – all in an environment sensitive to their trauma. LFTI's two-year follow-up process ensures ongoing support for kids and parents. And, each child has lifetime access to LFTI counselors so they have every chance to thrive in the future.
